- Sow sweet peas now so that come summer you can fill the house with both colour and scent.
- Move any shrubs that are simply in the wrong place.
- Perennials and ornamental grasses that you left for winter interest can be cut back now.
- Order plug plants for summer colour. See our website for details of our Pick & Mix offer.
- For early veg sow now in pots under glass, ready to plant out when spring arrives.
- Turn your patch of snowdrops into a stunning drift for next year by buying now and planting in the green.
- Order summer bulbs from our February catalogue – available from 15th February.
- If you have snow then use a broom or similar to knock it off any shrubs, small trees, cold frames and cloches. Otherwise, once it freezes the weight may cause them to break.
- Pot up over-wintered dahlia tubers so that they can start this season's growth.
- This is your last chance to clean tools, seed trays and pots. Come March you'll be needing them aplenty!
